Former Attorney General Says Effort Made to Blacken His Reputation — Committee Is Resentful.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Former Attorney General Daugherty today notified the Senate committee which had been investigating official conduct the past four months that he would neither testify as a witness nor be represented by further counsel in its proceedings. The committee had requested Daugherty to take the witness stand Friday. Daugherty's statement declared that "certain members of the committee had made a desperate effort to blacken" his reputation. Chairman Brookhart, head of the committee said the statement reflected upon the committee and would be replied to before going any further.

Another Raid On Metcalf Tobacco Beds

GLASGOW, June 4.—Several thousand yards of tobacco beds were destroyed in Metcalf County Friday night, according to information received here. The fact that an effort was being made to apprehend the raiders or to get clews as to who they were caused the matter to be kept quiet.

The raid took place in the Cave Ridge Section fifteen miles from here, and the raiders destroyed twelve beds. In most instances the beds were litterly dug to pieces. The raiders did not take the trouble to remove the canvas, but dug thru the covering, tearing it to shreds.

Several of the victims had their land prepared and were ready to set their crop.

The people of Metcalf County are angry over the outrages and a desperate effort will be made to find out who is responsible.

This section, where the raid took place Friday night, has never had any trouble before and the raid came as a great surprise.

It is reported but not confirmed that another raid had been made along the Green and Hart counties line, many beds being destroyed and a barn burned.

UPHAM RESIGNS AS G. O. P. TREASURER

Wife Persuades Him to Quit Because of the State of His Health.

By Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, June 1.—Fred W. Upham, of Chicago, has decided to relinquish his place as treasurer of the Republican national committee after many years' service. This announcement was made after a conference with William Butler, manager of President Coolidge's presidential campaign and incoming chairman of the national committee. No indication as the probable successor of Upham has been made. He had been in rather poor health for some months. A new set of officials must be chosen when the national committee is reorganized, as the result of Upham's retirement.

CHICAGO, June 4.—Mrs. Fred Upham persuaded her husband to quit as treasurer of the Republican national committee because of its arduous duties and his failing health, it was learned today. Upham desired to continue but in deference to his wife's wishes he decided against his own wish.

The female of the species are predominant in the local birth record for last month. There were thirty-three new girl babies and only twenty-five boys. One set of girl twins was recorded.

CONGRESS WILL ADJOURN JUNE 7

By Non-Partisan Vote Senate Concurs In House Resolution—LaFollette Loses.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—By a non?-partisan vote of 53 to 36, the senate yesterday adopted the house resolution fixing 7 o'clock next Saturday night for final adjournment of the first session of the 68th congress.

Republican and democratic organization leaders joined to put the resolution through, carrying with them 34 of the majority and 19 democratic votes. The opposition comprised 14 republicans, 20 democrats and the two farmer-labor members, most of whom are interested in reclamation Muscle Shoals and farm relief.

Conferences preceding the motion of Senator Lodge, the republican leader, to take up the adjournment resolution resulted in agreements looking to action for farm relief and reclamation legislation before adjournment but the fate of the Muscle Shoals proposal uncertain.

Led by Senator LaFollette, republican, Wisconsin, recognized leader of the insurgents in both houses, opponents of adjournment conducted a strenuous fight against adoption of the concurrent resolution.

NEW CAVE NEAR JELLICO FOUND

Will Harkness, In Letter to Father, Says Will Rival Mammoth Cave.

Opening of a new cave near Elk Valley, ten miles south of Jellico, is described by Will Harkness of Jellico in a letter to his father, J. F. Harkness of this city. He declares that the cave is as wonderful as Mammoth Cave and that it has already been explored for five miles without finding any end to it. It is high up on the side of the mountain, Mr. Harkness says.

Mr. Harkness says that plans are already under way to make a summer resort of the place. It is only a mile off the Jellico-LaFollette Dixie Highway route and a good road leads up to it, the letter says.

Evidently, Jellico is getting ready to offer counter attraction for tourists from the middle west south, so that they will come their way instead of over the popular Route "A" which runs by Middlesboro and Cumberland Gap.

Would Remedy Drainage Conditions Here

Efforts to remedy one of the worst drainage conditions in Middlesboro are in progress today. The place at the southeast corner of Twenty-second street and Cumberland avenue has been under water, this including the sidewalk also, with each hard rain.

The city is having the condition investigated today and attempts are being made to find the source of the trouble, evidently a section of the drainage tiles which has become clogged.

Hobo Held in Johnson Robbery Is Wrong Man

A man was arrested here yesterday on suspicion of being the robber who entered the home of Jim Johnson and took money and valuables Monday though he was released when those who had seen the housebreaker leave did not identify him as the criminal. The man, train hobo, had an unusually large amount of money on his person, this and other things of a suspicious nature leading to his arrest.

The trail of the criminal seems to be lost. Tracked to a point near Middlesboro by the bloodhounds the trail was lost and the search discontinued. Apparently the man has escaped the officers and left town.

The road is in fine condition now practically all the way, the work will continue until all the bad places have been mended.

Scientists Say Sun Is Splitting In Two

WEST CHESTER, Penn., June 4.—A crack is becoming visible in the sun and the great orb will split in two, according to Dr. David Todd.

Dr. Todd, Professor Emeritus of Amherst College, has been making observations of the sun from a big telescope at Graystone, near here.

"The effect of this on the earth and other planets cannot even be estimated. It would be years, probably, before any effect could be noticed on the earth," Dr. Todd said.

POSTAL SALARY RAISE VOTED

Bill Passes House Already Approved By the Senate—Now to Conference.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—A bill carrying salary increases for postal employes, differing in many respects from the one approved recently by the Senate, was passed Monday by the House.

The bill, which was passed by a standing vote of 250 to 11, proposes an increase in salaries, estimated by the Postoffice Committee at $65,000,000 a year and Postmaster General New at $80,000,000. Proponents of the Senate bill placed its annual cost at $55,000,000.

Called up by Chairman Griest of the Postoffice Committee, the bill was passed under supervision of rules, which limited debate to forty minutes, prevented amendments and required a two-thirds vote.

It now goes to conference with the Senate, where it will be determined, among other questions, whether House conferees will recommend acceptance of the amendment by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, which would give publicity to campaign expenditures.

Under the House measure, an average increase of about $300 a year is tended to clerks, carriers, inspectors, supervisors and assistant postmasters.

PLAN BUS DEPOT HERE VERY SOON

Place to Centralize Traffic Is Needed —Location Not Yet Certain.

Present indications are that a bus depot will be established in Middlesboro in the near future. While no definite plans have been announced by any person or organization, a number business men have been considering the proposition of erecting a building suitable for the purpose or of converting a present building into such a place.

The need of a bus depot which will centralize the bus traffic by becoming a place where all the cars stop and discharge thier passengers and where the public will catch busses for out of town points is recognized by the business men as well as the patrons and the bus operators.

It is believed that all the bus operators will cooperate in using and supporting such an enterprise which would obviously be for the mutual benefit of all.

Temporary closing of the News Stand building which served as a depot for several of the lines emphasizes more than ever the need for a real bus depot.

Grand Jury Investigations Are Resumed Today.

BOYS ARE GUARDED

Boast of One That His Family's Money Will Get Him Out Causes Added Precautions At Jail.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, June 4.—Grand jury investigation of the kidnapping and slaying of Robert Franks, millionaire's son, was resumed today and return of indictments against Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, Jr., also sons of millionaires, is expected late tomorrow. As the result of Loeb's reported statement, "I have money and my people have money; don't you suppose we will have a smart lawyer to get us out," the prosecution is taking unusual precautions. States Attorney Crowe declared double guards had been placed at the county jail day and night to prevent smuggling any weapons which might be used in an attempt suicide. The impression that the confession of the two slayers had not been signed was corrected today when Attorney Crowe declared each page of the stenographic notes has been signed by both youths.

State's Attorney Crowe, who is presenting the Franks case to the grand jury in person, ordered a staff of assistants to investigate the possible involvement of Leopold and Loeb in the shooting last fall of Freeman Tracy, University student, whose body was found near the school he attended with a bullet through the head and in the mutilation a few days previous of Charles Reams, a taxi driver. With a similar end in view an unofficial investigation was under way of the death several months ago of Melvin Wolf, who left the home of his wealthy grand-parents to mail a letter and whose body was found in the lake. Relatives were never satisfied with the decision of authorities that he committed suicide.

A motive for the shooting of Tracy was never found. He appeared to have been a brilliant student and seemingly without enemies. His body was found almost on the campus of the University of Chicago the institution attended by both Leopold and Loeb and Tracy. Friends of Tracy said he knew both the youths.

A few days after Tracy was slain, Charles Ream, a taxi driver was attacked.

The new owners acquire the property as of midnight May 31.

COOLIDGE AND THE TAX MEASURE

President Coolidge, by signing the tax measure, has kept his promise to reduce taxes, more especially those paid by the men and women who earn but little. His action means that Congress has granted the President's demand that a flat reduction of 25 per cent be given for 1923—this is a decided victory for the people and for Calvin Coolidge—it means that the interests of the man or woman, no matter whether on the farm or in the city, have been safeguarded by the President—it means that the head of the nation has kept his word to the citizens of the land— it means that Congress has at least realized that the people stand solidly behind the President in his fight for a reduction of taxes. It is true that the measure just passed is not exactly what the President desired. He wanted a bill that would mean an even greater reduction of taxes. There is no doubt that at the next session of Congress the President will insist that the tax bill be revised so as to give even further relief, and by that time the obstructionists in Congress will, no doubt, have been informed in emphatic terms by their constituents to do as the President desires.

When June 7th was tentatively agreed upon as the date of adjournment, the President summoned numerous leaders to the White House and flatly told them that form legislation of remedial character was necessary before the members of the two bodies departed for their homes. If Congress has any sagacity, political or otherwise, it will pass a real farm relief bill before it adjourns.

The McNary-Haugen bill has not met with the approval of the heads of the many farm organizations, many of them claiming that while it might give some slight temporary relief, it was economically unsound. The people and the President can see no reason why a bill to aid agriculture should not be enacted into law, and at once.

SAVE THE MOUNTAINS

Rediscovery of the "lost art of trail-making," or a return of Americans to the habit of "hiking, among the wilds of nature," was recommended a few days ago to the State Park Conference at Gettysburg, Penn., by Mr. Albert M. Turner, secretary of the Connecticut State Park and Forest Commission.

It seems to be a fact that while there is a great growth among the American people of the good habit of "getting outdoors," much of this is merely by automobile, where the outers, bowling along mile after mile on smooth highways, succeed merely in working up a big appetite without gaining any beneficial exercises. The automobilists, too, miss much of the marvelous beauties of nature hidden off the roadways, things which cannot be seen from the seat of a motor or not fully appreciated until close at hand. Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, too, can tell their touring parents some of the truth of this.

The State Park, it was emphasized at this gathering of conservationists and State and Federal officials, has come. Pennsylvania alone has set aside or purchased 1,200,000 acres of State forests to conserve and re-establish wooded resources, following a policy of using these areas for various types of recreational use, classifying them as parks, public camp grounds, private leases, or for scenic beauty. As State Parks grow, they afford wild life havens, refuges for birds and smaller animals which would be strictly protected from human attack within the borders of these territories.

Kentucky has a State Park Commission which is now preparing surveys of various areas in the State to be recommended to the next General Assembly for public ownership and control. Mammoth Cave, the Carter Caves, Cumberland Gap, the "between rivers" section of Lyon County and other tracts have been suggested.

If it be desired to preserve a typical Appalachian mountain section, in which trail-making could be practiced by the millions of campers and pleasure seekers in this country, no better spot in the country could be selected, either by the Federal or the State Government, than a part of that wild territory lying anywhere between the Breaks of Sandy and Pinnacle Mountain, along the Kentucky-Virginia border. This is the famous mountain country which John Fox, Jr., Neville Buck and others have made known to the reading public and which a public preserve would make known to hundreds of thousands of others, provided proper roadways are constructed therto.—The Courier-Journal.

THE OPEN FORUM

Selection of Life Partners

Editor Daily News:—How many parents are careful to inquire into the ancestry and character of prospective sons-and daughters-in law? The lack of this precaution on the part of American mothers and fathers, is the reason there are so many divorces in this country today. At the very time when young people should use the greatest amount of "good sound sense and judgment," they are guided only by blind passion. They need the guidance of older persons in the selection of life partners.

If a father buys stock, he is anxious to have only pedigreed specimens the best he can procure. He takes time to study the list of descent and relationship. When his children reach the marriagable age, he indifferently allows them to select their life mates without any exertion on his part to see that the selection is the best—morally and mentally; is the kind that will last.

If the stock is not as represented, the loss is only financial. If the life-partners are mental or moral failures, sorrow and suffering lie in wait for the innocent ones, which can not be compensated for, by any amount of wealth. Foreign mothers and fathers can set American parents a good example in regards to the marriage of their children.

JUNE 27 NEXT ROAD WORK DAY

Citizens Will Try Hand Again On Barbourville to Corbin Detour.

CORBIN, June 4.—June 27 has been decided upon as the next road working day between Corbin and Barbourville, it having been decided at the last working day that one day each month would be devoted to the project until the entire detour section was put in first class condition for any kind of weather.

On that day as many as possible of the citizens of Corbin, Barbourville and other cities along the road will unite in working the road in an effort to remedy the bad places and to put down such a body that the road wil always be passable.

The last road working day attracted approximately 900 workers and a picnic dinner was served at the noon hour by the ladies who had accompanied the workers. During the dinner hour an entertainment was staged and after this the workers resumed their work of the morning. More than a mile of road that had been in a very bad condition, was put in first class condition. Another long section which was bad in some places was repaired. The day proved such a success that it was decided to hold a similar day each month until the entire detour was put in good shape.

Teams, trucks, and other machinery is furnished free of charge by the firms in the cities along the lines affected. In a short time the last road working day money was raised to buy a grader by an auction put on by N. Buckner and it is expected that this will be there for the June 27 work day. The detailed plans for the day have not yet been worked out, the Corbin part of the plans to be under a committee from the Kiwanis club headed by Wade Candler.

Appeal To Red Cross To Rush a Baby Buggy

The Pennington County, S. D., Chapter's telephone rang furiously. A nervous and tired voice: "I wish you'd get me a baby buggy. Here I am down town trying to shop for myself, my sister's family and all the neighbors and I am lugging two children around with me. I just can't stand it any longer and they say the Red Cross can do anything."

Miss Helen Reynolds, Executive secretary, was not going to have this woman disillusioned. She telephoned to a mother and asked the loan of a baby buggy. In a few minutes she delivered it to the tired shopper who went on her way rejoicing, thoroughly convinced that "they" were right about the Red Cross.

Dupont Aids Pioneer Memorial By Check

HARRODSBURG, Ky., June 3—Gen. Coleman du Pont of Wilmington, Del., has taken a patron's membership at $1,000 in the Kentucky Pioneer Memorial Association through Miss Enid Yandell, of New York and Louisville, who will design the sculptured monument to the Kentucky Pioneers which is to be erected on Oold Fort Harrod Hill, at Harrodsburg.

The check was forwarded by Miss Yandell and was received today at Pioneer Memorial Headquarters here. Mrs. J. B. Haggin, of New York and Kentucky was the first person to subscribe for a patron's membership. The family of her husband the late millionaire turfman, first settled in Harrodsburg and Mercer County and played an important part in the early history of this section. The site for Miss Yandell's monument will be dedicated June 16 at the 150th anniversary celebration of the founding of eKntucky at "Harrod's Town," which was laid off June 16, 1774, two years before the Declaration of Independence was signed.

Miss Yandell's sculptured monument will be a symbolic statue in bronze of a typical Kentucky pioneer. It will be mounted on a base of native stone. taken from the site of Harrod's Fort.

Miss Yandell is the sculptor of the Daniel Boone Monument and Hogan Memorial Fountain in Cherokee Park, Louisville.

Kreisler Urges That Diabolic Ray Be Destroyed as Weapon

ON BOARD LINER RELIANCE BOUND FOR HAMBURG, June 3.—Fritz Kreisler famous Austrian violinist, today suggested that a movement be undertaken to induce the inventor of the so-called "death-ray" to sell his secret to an international body of trustworthy men and women who will then destroy it so it can never be used in war time.

After reading the news radiograms that nations were bartering for use of the "death ray," Kreisler showed deep emotion over its dreadful possibilities in event of future war.

'I would be willing to undertake a monster benefit performance in New York, giving all the proceeds as the nucleus of a fund to eliminate the pernicious scourge of mankind," said the musician. "If money is the chief lure of inventors then by all means let the people raise a fund that would make all governments look small in comparison. I suggest that the invention be purchased and destroyed for all time.

"One alternative might be to form the death ray into constructive use for destruction of deadly germs and bacilli. Let the Rockefeller institute buy it through public subscription and turn the menace into a blessing."

Mrs. Kreisler, wife of the violinist said she would gladly devote her services to promote international action on the part of the women.

Kreisler pointed out that he is not a scientist, but he said he believed the "death ray" could be used to help open up unexplored regions in Brazil along the Amazon river which would contribute untold riches and resources to civilization.

"Certainly all nations should sign a solemn covenant pledging themselves never to use this torturesome weapon to destroy human life," he declared.

PARIS TO HAVE TOURIST CAMP

Elaborate Plans for Motorists' Conveniences Arranged by Kentucky Town.

PARIS, June 3.—Through the generosity of Dr. D. S. Henry, Paris will have a tourist camp of about four acres a quarter of a mile from the city limits on the Georgetown pike, which is part of the L. L. L. highway and the Dixie highway. The work, which has been started, is in the hands of a committee of the Paris City Service club consisting of Walter Kenney, Jr., M. Peale Collier, Flourney Hagan and Dr. D. S. Henry.

According to the plans drawn up by the architect, Mr. Hagan, every convenience for tourists will be provided, including shower baths, sleeping quarters, electric lights, cook stoves with an ample supply of fire wood, tourists' information, plenty of parking space, both for those who bring their camping outfits and for those who have not, and a bountiful supply of fresh pure water from an ever flowing spring which will be piped to point near the entrance. Work on the road leading to the camp is well under way.

A large sign, at the top of which will be the caption, "Yes, This is Paris!" with a map of Paris underneath showing the roads leading through the city and containing advertisements of many merchants, will be erected above the camp to attract the attention of the tourists.

Arrangements will be made for someone to be on duty at the camp all the time.

MONEY OF NO VALUE

"Life had no pleasures for me. Although I had plenty of money it was of no value, as my stomach almost constantly distressed me. I lost faith in all doctors and medicine. Talking with my druggist about my case he advised me to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. I am now enjoying life again." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver, and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

Such popularity must be deserved

OLD records to break, new ones to make! Grilling tests of speed, stamina, power! And for the winner—popularity, hard-won and deserved.

So with everything else. To win popularity even a cigarette must deserve it. Chesterfield, for example, has long been winning an average of over 1000 smokers a day.

One thing alone—Chesterfield's better taste—can account for such popularity.

TOIL AWAY
By John Jay Chapman

Toil away and set the stone
That shall stand when you are gone.
Ask not that another see
The meaning of your mason-dry.

Grind the gem and dig the well,
For what? for whom?—I can not tell.
The stone may mark a boundary line,
The well may flow, the gem may shine.

Be it wage enough for you
To shape them well and set them true.
Of the future who can tell?
Work, my friend, and so farewell.

Women of America Urged To Labor For World Betterment

LOS ANGELES, June 4.—Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, of Minneapolis, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, delivering a keynote address at the opening of the organization's seventeenth biennal convention here today, expressed faith in the government and ideals of the United States and threw down a challenge to all enemies of the republic, but called on the women of the nation to help make it still a better place to live in.

"Our task for the next ten days," she told the convention, "is to make ourselves definitely wiser and a more living part of the creative power that makes for righteousness."

Mrs. Winter pointed out that people no longer can say truthfully that "all is for the best in this best of all possible worlds." In these latter days, she added, "no one except he who is so blind that he cannot see tragedy, so deaf that he does not hear the sorrows of the world, so dumb that his mouth fails to respond; can possibly be comfortable in ognorance of the fact that this is a world where there is wrong and stupidity, doubt and turmoil, and that the best think that can happen to a human being is to be part of the forces of righteousness that are at work to make things better in this very far from perfect world."

Expressing for her organization belief in the United States, she said: "Our country is a demonstration that brotherhood is not an idle phrase or a far-off dream, but that it is the only practical solution of the world's difficulties. And there is no brotherhood that does not entail duties as well as privileges.

"The heart of America is sound. The brain of America is clear. And I believe the arm of America is not that of the weakling or coward, but that of the strong man. The red blood of the country's life is redder than the flag of anarchy and healthy enough to counteract the poison.

"We have gathered to pool our problems, our wisdom, our energy, and our inspiration.

There was a certain out-of-door wholesomeness to early America, but as civilization has grown it has drawn in its train not only music and art, churches and homes and lovely buildings, but also slums and prisons, and hospitals, twisted bodies and twisted souls, the young criminal, the grafter and the hopeless drudge, the flaming anarchist.

"It would not be worth while for us to come together if we did not believe that every wrong can be cured, if we did not come in faith, hope and joy. We represent that great sound America, those myriads of homes where love rules, from which men of integrity go forth to make business sound and constructive, where children grow up to be American men and women.

"But what makes a nation great? It is that inhabiting a sound body there shall be a soul that can use the body as its tool. What makes a nation immortal—the spirit. Great civilizations have grown and flourished and died upon this earth and we remember them according to the contribution they have made toward the life of the spirit."

RATES LOWEST SINCE WAR BY NEW TAX LAW

Individual Income Tax Payers Get Most Relief.

ADD GIFT LAW

Twenty-five Per Cent. Reduction On All Levies Are Payable By Individuals This Year.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The new revenue law scales down federal taxes to the lowest level since the start of the war.

Individual income taxpayers are given the greater relief, altho most of the remaining war excise taxes either are wiped off the statutes or reduced.

At the same time the law creating two new taxes—on gifts and mah jong sets—and increases the rate of taxes on estates and playing cards.

Changes ordered in the excise taxes go into effect after thirty days. Of course, the provision for a 25 per cent reduction on income taxes payable this year is effective immediately, while the cuts made in the individual income taxes are effective as of January 1, this year, on taxes which are payable next year.

The following changes are ordered in the income taxes:

A 25 per cent reduction on taxes payable this year.

General revision of both the normal and surtax rates, amounting to a 50 per cent cut on taxes levied against incomes of $8,000 and under.

An additional reduction of 25 per cent which may be made on earned incomes. For purposes of this reduction all incomes of $5,000 and under are defined as earned. The cut may be made only on incomes up to $10,000.

Exemptions for heads of families with incomes of $5,000 and over is increased from $2,000 to $2,500, the same as now allowed heads of families with incomes of $5,000 and under. No change is made in the present law allowing an exemption of $1,000 for single persons.

The new gift tax, imposed, it authors said ,merely as a complement to the state tax and to checkevasions of the latter, carries the same rates as the revised estate tax. It allows an exemption of $50,000.

Also numerous other exemptions would be allowed including gifts to public purposes and charitable, educational and religious organizations.

The tax will be leived on the donor and against the total amount of the gifts during the year. This tax goes into effect as of last January 1. The rates would start at one per cent on gifts not in excess of $50,000. It is estimated this tax will bring in $2,000,000 revenue annually.

The new tax on Mah Jong sets is ten per cent and it is estimated this will result in collection of about $2,000,000 annually altho accurate statistics are not available for such a calculation.

The following table shows the amount of tax a married man with no dependents will have to pay, considering that only $5,000 of the income is earned, as compared with the present law.

Net Income	Present Law	New Law
$ 3,000	$ 20	$ 7.50
4,000	60	22.50
5,000	100	37.50
6,000	160	57.50
8,000	250	87.50
9,000	430	167.50
10,000	510	270.50

SHATTERED NERVES

Lady Says She Was In a Desperate Condition, But "Now In Splendid Health" After Taking Cardui.

Dale, Ind.—"About three years ago," says Mrs. Flora Roberts, of this place, "I had the 'flu', which left me in a desperate condition. I had a bad cough. I went down in weight to little over one hundred pounds. I took different medicines—did everything, but nothing seemed to do me any good. I hurt so badly in the chest at times I would have to go to the door to get my breath.

"I would have the headache and . . . was so weak I felt like I would just have to sink down and stay there.

"My nerves were shattered. I looked for something awful to happen—I would tremble and shake at a noise.

"My mother said, 'Do try Cardui', and my husband insisted till I began its use. I used two bottles of Cardui . . . and noted a big improvement in my condition. I kept up the Cardui and weigh 180 pounds. I am now in splendid health—sure am a firm believer in Cardui, for I'm satisfied it did the work."

After a weakening illness a tonic is needed to help regain lost strength. Many thousands of women have found Cardui exactly what they needed for this purpose. It may be just what you need. Try it. All druggists'.

—of A "Fair Return"

The Transportation Act of 1920 permits a rate of return on the value of the railroads' properties of 5¾%. However, in no year since the Act became effective, on September 1, 1920, have the railroads earned anything like the amount contemplated or permitted therein.

The following statement, compiled by the Bureau of Railway Economics, shows the amount of money the American railroads were entitled to earn under the Transportation Act; the amount and the rate they actually did earn; and the shortage of the so-called "fair return."

Period	Permitted to Earn	Did Earn	Shortage	Rate
4 mos. 1920	$ 625,417,120	$ 250,842,278	$ 366,333,842	2.10%
Year 1921	1,106,297,080	615,945,414	425,351,666	3.35%
Year 1922	1,084,606,992	778,646,940	305,160,232	4.14%
Year 1923	1,105,571,332	977,543,990	128,088,328	5.16%
40 Months	$3,722,092,425	$2,590,739,042	$1,131,353,383	4.66%

Note that during the 40 months in which the Transportation Act has been in effect, the railroads have earned only 4% on the value of their properties; and that there was a shortage under the so-called "fair return" of $1,131,353,383.

The reader's attention is called to the fact that the Transportation Act permits, but does not guarantee, the "fair return." If the real earnings of the railroads were guaranteed by the Government, the carriers would now have a sizeable bill of over one billion dollars to present to Uncle Sam.

Left alone and given the opportunity to work out their own destinies under the Transportation Act, the railroads will solve their problems; but further tinkering with railroad legislation is bound to be destructive to the unsurpassed service they are now giving.

Give the Transportation Act a chance to make good; give the railroads a chance to continue to make good—and the Nation will prosper accordingly.
